“Young Genius”- national level competition for school students was organized by the Department of Civil Engineering on 16.10.2019. It was an initiative taken under Jal Shakthi Abhiyan scheme and the theme of the event was ” Leaving no one behind- Safe water for all”. The main aim of this competition was to give opportunities for the young minds to propose innovative ideas to protect the water from pollution. Oratorical and poster presentation competitions on the theme of “safe water for all” were conducted for students. The competition served as a platform for the students to exhibit new methodologies to establish safe methods to balance the natural resources especially water with human needs. Dr.R.Saravanan, Associate Professor, Centre for water resources, Anna University presided as chief guest and emphasized on the importance of water management. Nearly 110 school students from various schools across chennai participated in the event.
